- provide and deliver the Services you have requested;
- create Customer profiles and give the Customer access to the Services;
- operate our internal operations, systems, products, and services;
- understand the Customers' and Visitors' experiences with a view to enhance the Customers' and Visitors' experiences of our services and products
- provide customer service related to our products and services;
- send service-related information associated with our products and services, including confirmation but not limited to actions taken (e.g. change of password), invoices raised, updates and enhancements, security alerts plus support and administrative messages;
- provide updates on promotions, upcoming events, and news about our products and services; and
- facilitating any proposed or confirmed merger, acquisition or business asset transaction involving any part of the Group and/or its related corporations, or corporate restructuring process.

In addition, personal data that is uploaded by the Customer (either directly by the Customer using CSV, Google Sheets or via an authenticated API connection) is used to derive KPIs (Key Performance Indicators). These KPIs are either predefined by BPES or defined by the Customer.

2.3 With whom do we share the personal data?

BPES may disclose personal data about you to the following third parties for any of the purposes described in this Privacy Policy:

- any person to whom you authorise us to disclose your personal data;
- law enforcement agencies, relevant government ministries, regulators, statutory boards or authorities in compliance with any laws, rules, guidelines and regulations or schemes imposed by any governmental authority;
- our professional advisors, which may include lawyers, auditors, accountants or other consultants; and
- service providers we hire to perform services on our behalf, including, but not limited to the generation of invoices and bills, managing credit card payments for the Services, and managing our information technology systems. These service providers do not have the right to use your personal data for their own purposes. If you have consented, BPES may share your personal data with the Group's service providers so that these service providers can contact you on our behalf.

From time to time, BPES may partner with other persons to jointly offer products or services. If you purchase or specifically express interest in a jointly-offered product or service from BPES, the Group may share your personal data with our joint promotion

3. Website Navigational Information

PRIVACY POLICY

BLUE PLANET GROUP

LAST UPDATED ON 22 DECEMBER 2025
BLUE PLANET ENVIRONMENTAL SOLUTIONS PTE LTD
Singapore / India / United Kingdom / Malaysia / New Zealand

BPES uses commonly-used information-gathering tools, such as cookies and web beacons, to collect information as you navigate the Group's Websites ("Website Navigational Information"). This section describes the types of Website Navigational Information that may be collected on the Group's Websites and how this information may be used.

3.1 Cookies

BPES uses cookies to make interactions with the Group's Websites easy and meaningful. When you visit the Group's Websites, BPES servers send a cookie to your computer. Such cookies do not personally identify you. They merely recognise your Web browser. Unless you choose to identify yourself to BPES, either by responding to a promotional offer, opening an account, or filling out a Web form (such as a "Contact Me"), you remain anonymous to the Group. BPES uses cookies that are session-based and persistent-based. Session cookies exist only during one session. They disappear from your computer when you close your browser software or turn off your computer. Persistent cookies remain on your computer after you close your browser software or turn off your computer.

If you have chosen to identify yourself to BPES the Group uses session cookies containing encrypted information to allow the Group to uniquely identify you. Each time you log into your web account in relation to the Services, a session cookie containing an encrypted, unique identifier that is tied to your web account is placed on your browser. These session cookies allow the Group to uniquely identify you when you are logged into the Services and to process your online transactions and requests. Session cookies are required to use the Services.

BPES uses persistent cookies that only the Group can read and use to identify browsers that have previously visited the Group's Websites. When you purchase the Services or provide the Group with personal data, a unique identifier is assigned to you. This unique identifier is associated with a persistent cookie that the Group places on your web browser. The Group is especially careful about the security and confidentiality of the information stored in persistent cookies. For example, the Group does not store account numbers or passwords in persistent cookies. If you disable your web browser's ability to accept cookies, you will be able to navigate the Group's Websites, but you will not be able to successfully use the Services. BPES may use information from session and persistent cookies in combination with anonymized personal data about the Group's Customers to provide you with information about the Group and the Services.

3.2 Web Beacons

PRIVACY POLICY

LAST UPDATED ON 22 DECEMBER 2025
BLUE PLANET ENVIRONMENTAL SOLUTIONS PTE LTD
Singapore / India / United Kingdom / Malaysia / New Zealand

BPES uses web beacons alone or in conjunction with cookies to compile information about Customers' and Visitors' usage of the Group's Websites and email interactions with the Group. Web beacons are clear electronic images that can recognise certain types of information such as cookies on your computer when you view a particular website tied to the web beacon. For example, BPES may place web beacons in marketing emails that notify the Group when you click on a link in the email that directs you to one of the Group's Websites. BPES uses web beacons to operate and improve the Group's Websites and email communications.

BPES may use information from web beacons in combination with anonymized personal data about the Group's Customers to provide you with information about the Group and the Services.

3.3 Flash Cookies

BPES may use local shared objects, also known as flash cookies, to store your preferences or display content based upon what you view on the Group's Websites to personalise your visit. Third parties with whom the Group partners to provide certain features on the Group's Websites or to display advertising based upon your web browsing activity use flash cookies to collect and store information.

3.4 IP Addresses

When you visit the Group's Websites, the Group collects your Internet Protocol ("IP") address(es) to track and aggregate non-personal data. For example, BPES uses IP addresses to monitor the regions from which Customers and Visitors navigate the Group's Websites.

3.5 Third Party Cookies

From time-to-time, BPES engages third parties to track and analyze usage and volume statistical information from individuals who visit the Group's Websites. BPES may also use other third-party cookies to track the performance of Group's advertisements. The information provided to third parties does not include personal data, but this information may be re-associated with personal data after the Group receives it.

BPES may also contract with third-party advertising networks that collect IP addresses and other Website Navigational Information on the Group's Websites and emails and on third-party websites. Such advertising networks track your online activities over time by collecting Website Navigational Information through automated means, including through the use of cookies. They use this information to provide advertisements about products and services tailored to your interests. You may see these advertisements on other websites. This process also helps us manage and track the effectiveness of our marketing efforts.

3.6 Links to other websites

The Group's Websites may contain links to other websites of interest. However, once you have used these links to leave the Group's Websites, you should note that we do not have any control over such third parties' websites. Therefore, we cannot be responsible for the protection of the privacy of any personal data which you may provide whilst visiting such third party websites. You should exercise caution and review the privacy policy(ies) of such third party websites before disclosing your personal data to such third parties.

4. Public Forums and Customer Testimonials

BPES may provide bulletin boards, blogs, or chat rooms on the Group's Websites. Any personal data you choose to submit in such a forum may be read, collected, or used by others who visit these forums, and may be used to send you unsolicited messages. BPES is not responsible for the personal data you choose to submit in these forums. BPES may post a list of Customers and relevant testimonials on the Group's Websites that contain personal data such as Customer names and titles. BPES will obtain the consent of each Customer prior to posting any such personal data.

5. International Transfer of Personal Data Collected

To facilitate BPES global operations, the Group may transfer and access the personal data of BPES Customers from anywhere in the world. This Privacy Policy shall apply even if BPES transfers the personal data of BPES Customers to other countries.

Notwithstanding the above, it is explicitly clarified that the provisions of this clause shall not extend to the transfer of personal data to entities within the Blue Planet. Such transfers to Group entities are expressly excluded from the purview of this clause and shall be deemed permissible without any restrictions.

6. Communications Preferences

BPES offers Customers and Visitors who provide contact information a means to choose how the Group uses the information provided. If you have previously consented to but no longer wish to receive marketing and non-transactional communications, please click on the “unsubscribe” link located at the bottom of the Group’s marketing emails. Alternatively, you may send a request specifying your communication preferences to . Customers cannot opt out of receiving transactional emails related to their account with BPES or the Services.

7. Security

BPES uses appropriate administrative, technical, and physical security measures to protect personal data of In.Corp Visitors and Customers.

8. Changes to this Privacy Statement

BPES may amend this Privacy Policy from time to time. BPES will provide notification of the material changes to this Privacy Policy on the Group’s Websites at least thirty (30) business days prior to the change(s) taking effect.
